

Jay Mathpal is a B.Tech Computer Science student at Birla Institute of Applied Sciences (2022-2026) proficient in technologies like Next.js, React, Prisma, and various databases (PostgreSQL, NeonDB, Supabase). He has developed full-stack projects including a finance management platform, an AI resume builder, and a URL shortener with analytics. He also holds certifications in Azure AI Essentials and web development from freeCodeCamp. His skills include languages like Java, JavaScript, and TypeScript, and he is familiar with developer tools like VS Code and Git.